“Mention Costa Rica and people think paradise. The country's Disney-like cast of creatures — ranging from howler monkeys to toucans — are prolific and relatively easy to spot. The waves are prime, the beauty is staggering and the sluggish pace seductive. The incredibly varied topography means you can cruise a cloud forest one day, climb a volcano the next, and finish passed out on a hot sandy beach.” - Lonely Planet

Costa Rica is one of the most biologically diverse regions on the planet!

Day 2

Breakfast, lunch & dinner

Rise and shine Costa Rica! After a great breakfast, we'll start off our tour with a fantastic day. We'll board our transportation and head to Poás Volcano and then the Doka Estate!

Poás Volcano - Poás volcano is a powerful symbol of the geothermal forces that formed Costa Rica. When the mist and clouds part you'll see the sulfuric, bubbling, green rain-fed lake at the bottom, surrounded by smoke and steam rising from fumaroles. Water from the lake is constantly seeping through cracks in the hot rock, evaporating and building pockets of steam. When the pressure in these pockets exceeds the weight of the water above, the steam breaks through in geysers that rocket up to 820 feet (250 meters) high. Don't worry about getting a shower though, the crater is 1,050 feet (320 meters) deep. At almost a mile across it's also the largest active crater in the world.

A modern visitors' center and small museum explains and interprets the geothermal and ecological attractions in the park. The volcano provides an excellent, if extreme, example of the effects of acid rain. Around the caldera, and for several miles downwind, the vegetation is stunted brown and black by the tainted moisture that precipitates from the omnipresent clouds near the peak.

After our morning at Poás, we're off to one of our favorite locations – The Doka Estate.

The Doka Estate Coffee Tour - Located in the coffee capital of Costa Rica, Sabanilla, Alajuela, this coffee plantation belongs to the Costa Rican Vargas Ruiz family; pioneers and award winners of coffee production for more than 70 years.

The main objective of the Coffee Tour is to educate students on the agriculture and production process of coffee. The tour takes place on the Doka Estate, where students learn about production, harvesting, the processing plant and the roasting of the coffee grain. Costa Rica has a large variety of microclimates and altitudes within short distances. The route taken explains how the different climatic factors flavor the taste of the coffee. Guided by an expert, students will receive extensive information making this activity an incomparable experience.

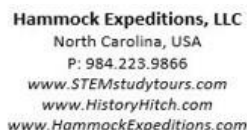

- The tour begins in the seedbed. Students will observe and learn the development process of the plant up to the point of collection. Students also learn about the history of the estate, its owners, the production and varieties of plants, the geography of the area and the traditional ways of cultivating the grain.

- The second station is the oldest humid coffee processing plant that works by hydraulic power, declared to be an Architectural Heritage for Humanity in 2003. In the receiver, students will see and learn about the classification of the grains, and afterwards, the process of de-pulping of first and second quality coffees that takes place in the grinders.
- Next, the natural honey of the grain is cut in the fermentation tanks and a process is carried out that is significant for taste. Once the coffee that has been dried in the Guardiola or on the patios under the sun is ready to be peeled, it will then be exported or roasted in-country.
- Finally, the roasting plant 'Café Tres Generaciones' is visited, where students will observe the different types of roasts that are offered.

And best yet, we'll 'taste' the process along the way!

After a tremendous day, we'll head back to our hotel for dinner and a well-deserved night of rest.

Day 3

Breakfast, lunch & dinner

Good morning San Jose! After breakfast at the hotel, we'll transfer to the Sarapiquí area, approximately 2- hours, for a day full of adrenaline and outdoor exploration at Hacienda Pozo Azul!

The Hacienda's many trails have plenty of natural fauna, beautiful rivers and waterfalls, giving our guests the opportunity to explore on horseback, mountain bikes, in a guided nature walk, or just enjoy bird watching as they drift down the Sarapiquí River. Adventurous travelers will feel their adrenaline rise as they discover the wonders of Hacienda Pozo Azul with a thrilling (and safe) Treetop Canopy Ride ending with a spectacular 900-foot zip line across the Sarapiquí River. Or sample the exhilaration of whitewater rafting with the Sarapiquí's year-round, class II and III rapids, all with top quality equipment and experienced certified guides. For even more 'hands-on' excitement, rappel down the Sarapiquí River canyon with special safety ropes. Hacienda Pozo Azul guides are not only certified in Health & Safety procedures, but also specialize in each of the activities they perform at the hacienda.

NOTE: Groups may choose one of the following activities for this morning's activity and then a second activity for the afternoon. Options include horseback riding, canopy/ziplining, rafting (Class II – III) or rappelling.
